Look for Corporate sales, firm sales, sales Automation, PLC, Visualization

Our client is a very successful electronics company and manufactures various devices for measuring and monitoring energy as well as corresponding software. The company is an innovative solution provider and is known as a top employer in the region.

The manufactured devices provide energy measurement data, which are to be further processed. The goal is to use the data to take optimization measures for individual devices, but also throughout operation.

Key words here are automation, PLC and visualization.

We are now looking for a company with three to 20 employees with these competencies to buy. Our client wants to offer additional services, as customers often address these competencies.

The purchase parameters are:
